An Adlerian Perspective

Joyce Callus M.A.

Diploma in Adlerian Psychology

Joyce is the co-founder of the Malta Adlerian Psychology Association, part time lecturer at the university of Malta and devised and run many Adlerian programmes on Adlerian Education around the world. She has been an educator for forty years and is a regular contributor on TV, radio and in printed mediums.

Work Shop One: - Life is not Being But Becoming

This hands – on course provides participants with an overview of the Adlerian concepts on the development of the personality, apperceptions and inferiority feelings in early childhood. How is this linked to striving? Is striving positive or negative? Through discussions and practical activities insight is gained into these concepts and their influence in daily life.

Work Shop Two: - Born in a World of Giants

Adler believed that the individual wants to move from a perceived minus to a perceived plus, and this can turn striving into thriving. By exploring particular skills together with the concept of social interest this course offers a guide as to how movement towards the useful side of life can be achieved thus bypassing moving towards the useless side of life in today's society.

Joyce will also be delivering a Plenary: - ROOTS AND WINGS

This presentation demonstrates the strength that lies behind these two special gifts that parents can pass on to their children. Gifts that enhance adult life, for after all we carry our childhood all our life.

Rachael Ayers Dip (ASIIP)

Rachael has over 12 years experience of working creatively with young people in an educational setting and has held her ASIIP Counselling Diploma for 8 years. She has over 4,000 hrs counselling experience working with young people and adults. She is currently a co-tutor on the Bucks Adlerian training course and also a self employed artist working from her own studio and supporting other developing artists, working in a range of mediums.

Rachael will be facilitating our Young Peoples programme; it follows the same time period as the adult programme.
